

What does EATIS.org?

- Promote annual conferences named EATIS - Euro American Conference on Telematics and Information Systems.
- Prompt finding new research lines to young researchers and new R&D research groups
- Connect Scientific and Social Development Networks to share ideas, projects and discuss issues in Computer Science.
- Instigate a strong relationship among R&D institutes, universities, public organizations and local enterprises.
- Open information channels among researchers, policymakers, global networks and governmental agencies.
- Incite undergraduate students and local enterprises participation in the scientific conferences.
- Offer facilities for conferences authors residing in economically developing countries.